apples also contain a complex of b vitamins, which are known to keep red blood cells healthy. getting that much needed oxygenated blood flowing to the muscles and heart during an intense run