studies have tended to focus on five main areas: the prevalence and frequency of drug driving; characteristics